California - September 2006 - King Step Recordings (KSR), the only Reggae Record Label based Silicon Valley, has launched it's new and improved multimedia website. It can be found at KingStepRecordings.com

King Step Recordings has been pushing the threshold of Reggae music since late 2005 and the new website is taking the label to new heights of exposure. KSR now features a growing amount of exclusive videos hosted by Google Video, a picture gallery filled with never seen before photo's, and a flash based music player filled with new ground breaking Reggae music.

KingStepRecordings.com will be featuring exclusive Edi Fitzroy video interviews documenting his past, present, and things to come. These video's document some of the greatest times in Reggae Music history and they are told be the legend himself.

Not only does the new site offer exclusive interviews, but it features audio and video from some of Jamaica's latest and greatest, like Stevie Culture. Stevie is an established Reggae recording artist in Jamaica and with the help of KSR and the new website, he is now getting the attention he deserves. Read all about him at KingStepRecordings.com.

KSR is based in California and was founded in December 2005 by Adam Heller. Adam is also the founder of the well-known site ReggaeDj.com that has been serving the Reggae community since 2003.
