Agency: Travelphotopics.com

North Bay, Ontario July 03, 2007 -- Travel Photo Pics operated by digital photographic artist Carlton McEachern is pleased to announce the launch of the new web site, travelphotopics.com featuring exciting travel images from around the world and marketed by FeaturePics.com image marketing. The site allows the user to search the entire picfolio of the artist with over 1500 quality images available online at Featurepics.com. FeaturePics, of Fremont CA, offers licensing of these images as royalty free and a small business extension is available. Of particular interest are the travel photo collections offered at substantial discounts over individual purchases.

A growing collection of travel related articles with images is also available for purchase either for one time use or syndication. Some of these articles have been previously published while others are waiting for your discovery.

Travel Photo Pics offers the user the ability to send a greeting card using a selection of images from the extensive travel portfolio. Clients can also purchase Tshirts and giftware on the site through LingoTShirts.com, an affiliated site and the official supplier of corporate wear to FeaturePics.

In addition, framed or unframed fine art prints can be purchased through the site, all featuring the work of Carlton McEachern.

And last but not least, an affiliate section contains carefully selected links to various online stores, all with travel related products for sale. The links are arranged by category such as; book a room; travel insurance; travel clothing; travel gear; travel related items for your wedding; photo sites with travel related products and much more.

The theme of the site is "All Travel - All The Time" and only travel related content will be found here. So buy or browse but please enjoy your visit to travelphotopics.com and bookmark it using the handy social bookmark button so you can return often.

TravelPhotoPics is a company providing travel content for the consumer, web and graphic designer and print and online media companies. All Travel - All The Time underlines the focus of the site.

FeaturePics.com is a site for buying and selling Stock Photos, and giving recognition to the excellent group of FeaturePics Photographers.
