Vancouver, WA. - The International College of Metaphysical Theology (ICMT) announced its Summer 2007 Tuition Specials on June 21st. New students are invited to enroll now to begin their work toward a Bachelors, Masters and/or Doctoral Degree in a variety of available Metaphysical Specialties.

Metaphysics is the science, which investigates ontology, the first causes of existence and knowledge. It seeks to explain the nature of being and the origin and structure of the world, uniting man's physical, mental, and spiritual character into its true nature of holism.

Through metaphysics an applied psychology of religion developed, influencing the work of many ministers and teachers in handling the emotional and physical problems of youth through maturity and in dealing with the sick and dying. This facilitates a closer relationship between the work of the psychologist and that of the spiritual healer.

ICMT is a correspondence college that is Approved by the State of Washington Higher Education Board as a Religious-Exempt degree-granting institution.
