Ad Server Solutions has released Enterprise versions of ad management, ad network, banner exchange, affiliate software and affiliate network software for Windows, Linux and Unix servers. Api's, source codes, installation services and programming services are available. Hosted solutions are also available for all of the solutions through sister site AdServingSolutions.com

This next generation Enterprise platform has been completed from ground up over the last year. Substantial enhancements of the core technology and innovation have also been updated and overhauled. Turn key solutions are provided from start to finish, start making money today easily and affordable. Running a website requires monetizing revenue by generating traffic and selling ad space, which are done through ad management and affiliate program solutions.

This release is a major update that enhances these products on many levels. This version includes many customer requested enhancements. Enterprise versions deliver a much more scalable platform that gives the customer the power to maximize revenue, streamline processes, and lower operating costs. The enhanced capabilities provide a robust and scalable architecture designed for performance and reliability. Multi server deployment, connection pooling, load balancing, unique statistic logic, remote concepts, memory based queue and server clustering are just a few of the many enhancements in the Enterprise versions.

Enterprise versions add the tools necessary to manage, integrate and track large scale web sites using ad management and affiliate management programs. Customers love the flexibility in managing affiliates, advertisers, real time sales, tracking and commissions reporting together with integrated email management for communications. Ad Server Solutions goal has always been to provide customers flexible tools to manage their advertising and affiliate relationships in a manner unique to their business model.

Internet advertising is quickly becoming the most common method of marketing. As this shift to marketing online continues, website owners will continue to seek methods to monetize their revenue. Ad Server Solutions Enterprise versions were developed to be highly scalable to provide web site owners a wide variety of tools to inventory, manage, distribute, buy and sell content targeted advertising, contextual advertising and 3rd party ad network advertising on their own. Publishers will be able to create their own niche advertising networks and affiliate networks with revenue sharing agreements that meet both the network's needs, and those of their publishers and advertisers.
